The Government Medicine Issue

in America

A doctor friend of mine hands me a pamphlet titled "The Voluntary Way Is the American Way," or "50 Questions You Want Answered on Compulsory Health Insurance."

As you might well guess, the pamphlet originates with the American Medical association. Doctors and druggiests don't like socialized can Medical association. Doctors and druggiests don't like socialized and druggiests don't like socialized medicine programs. They have a good point in Question 15, which is the only one I am going to quote. The pamphlet says:

"Question 15: Is Compulsory health insurance really 'insurance'?"

"Answer: It is not. And it is gravely unfair to the people to pretend that it is. # Pro-Communist Union Officials Under Fire

Cleveland, Nov. 5 — (P) — The CIO's executive board called in left-wing nominees for posts on the board today to face charges they are ineligible under the amended CIO constitution, because of pro-communist leanings.

Nine union chiefs are under fire. Their nominations for the board were referred to the board at the closing session of the convention yesterday, to determine whether they could pass the new eligibility clause of the constitution. The clause bars from the board members of the Communist party or any who were influenced by the communist program.

Eight of the nine appeared be-fore the board to defend them-selves. Absent at the start of the meeting was Joseph Selly, presi-dent of the tiny American Com-munications association.

The convention definitely turned down only one nominee for the board, which normally has 51 members. CIO President Philip Murray ruled on the spot that Ben Gold, head of the fur and leather workers, and a member of the Communist party, could not serve. The convention, before adjourning last night, had tossed out two unions under leftist leadership—the United Electrical Workers and the Farm Equipment Workers.

New York, Nov. 5—(UP).— Details of an alleged coast-to-coast betting coup on a "fixed" horse race at Rockingham park were revealed here today by the Thoroughbred Racing Protective bureau.

The two unions, with a combined membership of about 470.000, merged last week but were thrown out of the CIO for continued defiance of major policy.

The convention chartered a new union to compete with UE.

Open Sunday

The historical background Republic's "The Fighting tuckian," starring John Wa Vera Raiston, Philip Dorn Oliver Hardy, opening Sunday at the Sacnger Theatre, proves that even over a century ago the American pioneers were international-minded!

national-minded!
The story deals with the settling of four townships in Alabama by 340 French families. Napoleonic exiles who in 1817 arrived at Mobile on the ship MacDonough and made their headquarters in a small community named "White That the community named "White and made their headquarters in a small community named "White Bluff." A year later, with the community developed into a thriving little village by their labors they re-named it, and it is significant that they gave it not a French name, one that would recall their own native land, but an ancient Greek name, "Demopolis," meaning "City of the People."

Strange Colonists

Strange Colonists No stranger colonists ever pene No stranger colonists ever penetrated a wilderness. They were cultured people from the heroic battle-fields in Europe and the glittering drawing rooms of the old French aristocracy. None had ever set foot in a plowed field until they found themselves pioneering the rugged interior of Alabama with illiterate traders, squatters and stolid Indians for their neighbors.

They called themselves the "Association of French Emigrants for the Cultivation of the Vine and

They called themselves the Association of French Emigrants for the Cultivation of the Vine and Olive," but their attempt at olive and grape culture was a complete failure. The Indians taught them how to grow corn and beans, but when they discovered that through a surveying error that through a surveying error they inadvertantly had built their city outside the chartered bound-arie they drifted away, either re-turning to France or settling in Mobile or New Orleans.

Given Rams Against Army

Little Chance

New York, Nov. 5 — (P) — Just how good is Fordham? Nobody seems to know. The answer probably will come today, before dusk settles over West Point's Michie stadium. "The boys have exceeded my fondest hopes," Fordham Coach Ed Danowski said. "weve looked great but we haven't met a team that ranks with Army, I'm afraid our bubble is going to burst."
The unheralded Rams have looked They've rated all conquering Notre Dame a two touchdown fa-vorite over a sturdy Michigan State eleven in what shaped up as the most important game of the week. The Spartans have run over five opponents since they dropped a narrow 7-3 decision to Michigan in their opener, and are figured to extend the Irish.

Oklahoma's Sooners, rated No. 3 Oklahoma's Sooners, rated No. 3 behind Notre Dame and Army in the Associated Press poll, are heavy favorites to whip Kansas State; California, No. 4, is a four-touchdown choice over Washington State, and rebounding Michigan, No. 5, is a 14-point favoirte over Purdue, which whipped Minnesota in a stumming upset last week. Undefeated Baylor, rated No. 6, yakes on its toughest foe thus far in Texas. Cornell, seventh ranking team and best in the Ivy league, has a breather in Syracuse. So does Rice, No. 8, against Arkansas, and Southern Methodist, No. 9, against Texas A. & M. Michigan State is rated No. 10.

So little regard did Army of ficials have for Fordham las spring that they transferred the game, originally scheduled to be played at the Polo Grounds, New York, to Michigan stadium, which seats only 27,000.

Just how much Army Coach Earl Blaik changed his mind stems from his most recent statement.
"In many respects, Fordham has better personnel than Army," he said, "And no one at West Point considers the game anything but a limit to the said of the limit to the said of the limit to the said of the limit to the limit to
